Foreword

The New Plymouth District Council is proposing a new approach to seek a resolution to the Waitara endowment and leasehold land issues. We have jointly developed this proposition with Taranaki Regional Council and Te Kotahitanga o Te Atiawa Trust (Te Atiawa's post-settlement governance entity), reflecting their interests in this land. The Council would like to thank both of these organisations for their willingness to find a new resolution and the work they have put in to develop this proposal. The Council also acknowledges Hon Chris Finlayson (Minister for Treaty of Waitangi Negotiations) and the Government's Office of Treaty Settlements for their work in developing this proposal.

We are seeking your views on the new approach. Our proposal has three key aspects to it:

- Firstly, that leaseholders will receive a right to purchase the freehold title to their property. Leaseholders who don't exercise this right will be able to continue to rent their land.
- Secondly, the funds from the leasehold land – both rents and proceeds from sales – will be put back into Waitara. The money will be divided between New Plymouth District Council and Taranaki Regional Council, and both councils have committed to investing the money back into the Waitara community.
- Thirdly, some land will be transferred to Te Kotahitanga o Te Atiawa Trust, reflecting the historic land confiscations by the Crown from Te Atiawa hapū in Waitara.

We expect our proposal, if supported, will provide for a new phase of prosperity for the Waitara community, creating new opportunities and substantial long-term benefits to the community as a whole.

We do acknowledge our proposal provides a compromise between competing interests and it may not provide everyone with everything they want. However, we believe we have struck an appropriate balance to move the community forward to an exciting new future.

To achieve this new proposal we have created a draft local Bill to take to Parliament, where we will ask Parliament to pass it as an Act. We want to ensure that we can present to Parliament the strongest case we can, and we now seek your input on the proposal. It is important that we hear the views of leaseholders, ngā uri o Te Atiawa, members of the Waitara community and the wider community. We look forward to your submissions.

Andrew Judd
Mayor New Plymouth District

The name "Whaitara" (commonly spelt as "Waitara") comes from the story of Whare Matangi, the estranged son of Ariki Ngärue, and his quest to be reunited with his father. Whare Matangi was given a magic dart (tara) that his mother foretold would lead him to his father. On the fifth throw of the tara, Whare struck Ngärue's house at the mouth of a river and thereby found his father. The area became known as "Te-Whai-tara-nui-a-Ngärue" (follow the dart of Ngärue).

Have your say on the future of the Waitara endowment and leasehold lands

New Plymouth District Council is proposing to change the legal framework for the Waitara endowment land, including leasehold properties. This will be done through promoting new legislation to Parliament. The aims of this reform are to enable leaseholders to obtain freehold titles to their properties, create a new fund for the benefit of the Waitara community and transfer land to Te Atiawa.

In August 2014 the Council and Te Kotahitanga o Te Atiawa Trust entered into a Heads of Agreement to achieve a new way forward for the Waitara endowment lands. Legislation has been developed to implement this Heads of Agreement. The Council is seeking the community's views on the proposed legislation.

Local bills are promoted by local authorities and deal with matters confined to a particular area.

The Council is seeking your views on the proposed Bill before taking it to Parliament. The proposed Bill will substantially alter the future of Waitara and, once implemented, will be hard to reverse. For this reason, the Council wants to ensure it has considered the views of the community before taking the Bill to Parliament.

Next stages are:

- 1 After taking into account this consultation, the Council will adopt a final version of the Bill.
- 2 The Bill will be introduced to Parliament.
- 3 The Bill will proceed through the parliamentary process, which normally includes consideration by a select committee and an opportunity for further public submissions.
- 4 Provided that Parliament supports the Bill, the Bill will be enacted and become law.

Why is the Bill being proposed?

The Council administers the Waitara endowment land under a range of outdated legislation, specifically the Waitara Harbour Act 1940 and the Waitara Borough Reserves Vesting Act 1909. These Acts limit what the Council can do with the endowment land and funds gained from that land. The old legislation is a significant constraint for the Council and the community.

For many years, Te Atiawa have fought for the return of land confiscated in 1865 by the Crown and Waitara leaseholders have sought to purchase the freehold title to their properties. This Bill proposes a way forward to address these competing interests in a manner that benefits the whole Waitara community.

A brief history of the Waitara endowment lands

The Waitara endowment lands have a long and controversial history.

Before European settlement the area of modern Waitara was a prominent Te Atiawa settlement. The initial European settlers of Taranaki saw Waitara as an attractive harbour and site for a new township. Tensions began as early as 1842. In the 1850s the Pekapeka Block (on the western side of the Waitara River) became a source of contention, and eventually in 1860 war broke out in Waitara. In 1865 (following a further outbreak of war) the Crown confiscated the Pekapeka Block and other lands from Te Atiawa.

In 1876 the Crown began vesting land in the Waitara Harbour Board and the Raleigh Town Board (which later became the Waitara Borough Council). Over the next 70 years further land was vested in the Council's predecessors for various purposes, mostly relating to harbour improvements and municipal development. That was a common method of funding local bodies and others in those times, when central Government had little money available. An endowment, sometimes without power of sale, gave a town, harbour board, hospital authority, charity or university a steady income from rentals. Most of the endowment land in Waitara is now governed by the Waitara Harbour Act 1940, with the Waitara Borough Reserves Vesting Act 1909 also applying to some of the land.

In 1989 the Council resolved to adopt a policy of permitting leasehold owners to freehold, subject to further investigation. This resulted in a 1991 decision to promote local legislation to Parliament to facilitate freeholding and enable all funds derived from sales to be credited to the Council. In 1992 the New Plymouth (Land Vesting) Bill was introduced to Parliament. This Bill was not progressed in Parliament because of concerns by the Government of the day around Treaty of Waitangi claim issues with Te Atiawa.

In 2002 the Council began to review its position. After two years of consultation, the Council resolved to withdraw the 1992 Bill from Parliament and to sell the leasehold land to the Crown for a Treaty of Waitangi claims settlement for Te Atiawa. The Waitara Leaseholders Association Inc. challenged this decision. The Court of Appeal eventually resolved in favour of the Council. The Waitara Leaseholders Association sought leave to appeal to the Supreme Court, but leave was denied. Further litigation by individual leaseholders was ultimately dismissed.

In 2010 the Council entered into a conditional sale and purchase agreement with the Crown that provided for the transfer of the leasehold land to the Crown if Te Atiawa decided to purchase the Waitara endowment land as part of its Treaty settlement. New Plymouth District Council and Taranaki Regional Council also came to an agreement in relation to the use of sales proceeds for the Waitara harbour land that reflected Taranaki Regional Council's contingent interest under the Waitara Harbour Act 1940. In 2014, following negotiations between Crown negotiators, Te Atiawa negotiators and Council, it was decided that the Waitara endowment land would not be included as part of the Treaty settlement.

The Council has sought a new way forward. In August 2014 the Council resolved to enter into a Heads of Agreement with Te Kotahitanga o Te Atiawa Trust on the future of the Waitara endowment land. This Heads of Agreement sees the Council promoting new legislation to govern the Waitara endowment land. The Heads of Agreement provides for leaseholders to be able to freehold, some land to be transferred to Te Atiawa, and funds related to the land to be used in Waitara. The proposed Bill implements this Heads of Agreement.

A short summary of the Bill

The proposed New Plymouth District Council (Waitara Lands) Bill will, if enacted, substantially alter the rules around the Waitara endowment land and the future of the Waitara community.

- Leaseholders will have a right to freehold.

Leaseholders will have the right to purchase the freehold title to their property from the Council at any time. Leaseholders will pay for the unimproved land value, and for administrative conditions relevant to their particular land. This right will be set in law (not at the discretion of the Council), and will pass on to any successors in title.

- Rents and sales proceeds will be split between New Plymouth District Council and Taranaki Regional Council to benefit Waitara

The District Council and Regional Council will split equally the balance of funds from land currently governed by the Waitara Harbour Act 1940 (approximately 80 per cent of endowment land), while the District Council will receive all funds from other endowment lands. Taranaki Regional Council is the legal successor to the Waitara Harbour Board.

- New Plymouth District Council funds will be used to benefit the Waitara community. All funds that New Plymouth District Council receives from rents and sales proceeds will be used in Waitara to benefit the Waitara community. These funds will be held in perpetuity by the Council, with an annual release of funds. A statutory Board, appointed by the Council and Te Kotahitanga, will determine where to spend the funds to benefit the Waitara community.

- Taranaki Regional Council funds will be used to benefit the Waitara community. Taranaki Regional Council will be obligated to spend the funds within Waitara for activities within its mandate. The Regional Council will also be able to recover its costs from the recent flood protection scheme work if it chooses to do so. However, the Regional Council may undertake a public process to spend the money elsewhere in Taranaki if it cannot identify projects within Waitara within its mandate. This reflects the scope of activities the Regional Council undertakes.

- Some land within Waitara will be transferred to Te Atiawa.

The Council-owned land at Battiscombe Terrace, Clifton Park and East Beach will be transferred to Te Kotahitanga o Te Atiawa. Most land will be public-access guaranteed reserve but some land at Battiscombe Terrace (the 'Brown Road land') will be able to be developed. Te Kotahitanga will also have the right of first refusal to purchase the coastal part of the Waitara Golf Course freehold and the Council-owned part of Ranfurly Park should the Council ever seek to sell it. The Council does not have any current proposal to sell that land.

This Bill reflects a joint approach between New Plymouth District Council, Taranaki Regional Council and Te Kotahitanga o Te Atiawa Trust. The inclusion of Te Kotahitanga o Te Atiawa reflects that the Waitara endowment lands were confiscated from Te Atiawa hapū in Waitara.

Te Kotahitanga o Te Atiawa Trust is Te Atiawa's post-settlement governance entity.

Questions for leaseholders

How will I buy the freehold title for my leasehold property?

The proposed Bill provides leaseholders with a right to purchase the freehold title of their property. This right attaches to the leasehold owner, so would transfer to any new owner should the leaseholder sell the lease.

Leaseholders can apply to the Council to freehold at any time once the Act is in force. There are no time limits.

Leaseholders will need to meet a number of administrative conditions in order to freehold. These include obtaining any necessary subdivision and building consents. Obtaining any necessary financing or mortgages will also be the responsibility of the leaseholder.

Once a leaseholder has the freehold title they are able to sell the property just as any freehold property owner does. There will be no remaining restrictions related to the lease.

The Council will develop an initial package to support leaseholders to freehold. The details of this initial package are yet to be confirmed but could include valuations and legal fee assistance. The Council will also discuss with banks possible support for mortgage costs.

What will the price to freehold be?

The Council will set a price based on the unimproved land value. This will be done by a registered valuer. If the leaseholder does not believe the price offered by the Council reflects the unimproved land value then there is an arbitration process available to determine the unimproved land value to form the purchase price.

What if I cannot buy the freehold title?

Leaseholders can continue to lease the property for as long as they wish. Leaseholders will be under no obligation to purchase the freehold title. The right to purchase the freehold title will be attached to the lease, so it will transfer to any new leaseholder upon sale. It is possible that having a right to freehold may improve the marketability of leases, even if not exercised, because it is transferable to new leaseholders.

Will my rent change?

No. The Bill does not address how rents are calculated or how often they are calculated. Rents are currently calculated in accordance with the terms of the leases and the Public Bodies Leases Act 1969. This process is not proposed to be changed. Rents, based on the value of the leasehold, will continue to be reset when the current renewal term expires.

Can I buy the freehold title today?

No. Freeholding will not be available until the Bill is passed by Parliament and becomes law. This depends on the Parliamentary timetable, but is likely to occur in 2017 or even early 2018.

Could the Council sell the freehold title to someone else?

The Bill does not stop the Council selling the freehold title to a third party. If the Council decided in the future to do so, then the terms of the lease and the right for the leaseholder to purchase the freehold title would not change. In effect, it would be the same as a residential tenant being subject to a change in landlord – the only change is who receives the rental income. The Council has not made any decision whether it would do this, but the Council wants to keep its options open in this regard. The Council could, for instance, use this ability if there were only a small group of leaseholders left who had not purchased the freehold title and the Council wanted to inject additional income into the funds available for the Waitara community. It would be expected that the Council would have to undertake a public consultation process before doing this.

Questions on funding and financial impacts

Who will get funds from the endowment land?

The leasehold properties generate two different income streams. Firstly, as is the case now, leaseholders will continue to pay an annual rental (there will be no change to how rents are calculated). Secondly, leaseholders will have the right to purchase the freehold title to their property. In addition, there will be sales proceeds if the Council decides to sell Ranfurly Park or the Waitara Golf Course or other surplus properties subject to current restrictions.

The current status of land affects how it will be distributed into the future. Income from land currently governed by the Waitara Harbour Act 1940 (approximately 80 per cent of the endowment land) will be split equally between New Plymouth District Council and Taranaki Regional Council. This is because currently both councils have interests in the income from that land under the Waitara Harbour Act 1940. Income derived from all other endowment land will be solely distributed to New Plymouth District Council.

What will Taranaki Regional Council do with its funding?

Taranaki Regional Council's income will be used by the Regional Council to undertake projects within its mandate in Waitara. Reflecting that the Regional Council has a focused mandate, the proposed Bill allows for the Regional Council to use its income outside of Waitara if it cannot allocate funds to Waitara within its mandate, and identifies this as part of its long-term plan. The Regional Council can, if it wishes, apply it to the cost of the flood protection scheme recently constructed in Waitara.

What will New Plymouth District Council do with its funding?

New Plymouth District Council's income will be invested into a perpetual fund that releases an amount each year. This 'annual release' will be used to benefit the Waitara community and decisions on its use will be made each year by a board with members appointed by the Council and Te Atiawa. The proposed Bill does not specify particular uses of the annual release. Instead the Bill provides a list of non-binding examples of potential future uses – this list is broadly consistent with the provisions that govern lottery grant distributions.

The Council wants to hear the community's views on potential opportunities for this funding to test these provisions.

Who will make decisions on the use of the District Council's funds?

The proposed Bill establishes an independent statutory board to decide on the use of the annual release. The board will have three members appointed by the Council and three members appointed by Te Kotahitanga o Te Atiawa. The Council will appoint the chairperson from within these six members. This provides a collaborative approach between the Council and Te Kotahitanga, building a future partnership to advance positive outcomes in Waitara. The money will be used to benefit the whole Waitara community.

How much income will be available?

The income available depends on when leaseholders decide to freehold. The 2013 rating valuations provide an average of $90,000 for the rateable land value of residential properties. This means that potentially more than $60 million could be split between New Plymouth District Council and Taranaki Regional Council (to use as per the previous questions).

Where will the money be spent?

The money will be spent in Waitara. The Bill proposes to define Waitara as shown in the map. This includes all current urban areas of Waitara, areas marked for future expansion, the Pekapeka Block, as well as some of the immediate rural surrounds.

Questions on other land changes

What is the proposed future status of the Waitara endowment lands?

The Bill proposes to remove the endowment and trust status of the land. In the future, the land will be split into a number of categories:

- Leasehold land that can be purchased by the leaseholder and become privately-owned freehold estate. There are about 780 properties. Most are residential, but a few are commercial/industrial.
- Land that will be transferred to Te Kotahitanga o Te Atiawa Trust, under various categories.
- General land, now freed from restrictions, that will enable the Council to consider the future of that land (such as for future sale). This includes a number of empty sections in Waitara owned by the Council that are not subject to leases, as well as properties that the Council identifies as surplus.

What land is being transferred to Te Kotahitanga o Te Atiawa Trust?

The Bill proposes that Te Kotahitanga o Te Atiawa Trust establish a new footprint in Waitara. There are three categories of land.

- The Council-owned land between Battiscombe Terrace and the foreshore, a sliver of land at East Beach, and Clifton Park. The underlying title to these pieces of land will be transferred to Te Kotahitanga o Te Atiawa. However, the Council will continue to administer these areas as public reserve with public access in the same way that other reserves are. The Reserves Act 1977 will apply to this land, with some modifications. This is similar to how the Council administers the Urenui Domain even though it is now owned by Ngāti Mutunga. This land is coloured yellow on the map below.
- Between the Battiscombe Terrace reserve land and Brown Road is approximately 13ha of land owned by the Council and zoned as residential land in the District Plan. Te Kotahitanga o Te Atiawa will have this land transferred to develop as it sees fit (within the District Plan framework). This land is coloured purple on the map below.
- The Council owns the western part of Ranfurly Park and the Waitara Golf Course. The proposal is that this land remains with the Council at this stage. However, if the Council decides to sell Ranfurly Park and/or the coastal golf course land, then it would be required first to offer this land for sale to Te Kotahitanga o Te Atiawa Trust by following a process set out in the Bill before being able to put it on the open market. The land is coloured green and orange on the map below.

Will public access to Battiscombe Terrace, Clifton Park and the East Beach land be assured?

Yes, generally it will be. The land will be subject to the Reserves Act 1977. That law allows for some exclusions of the public to occur by way of leasing out the land. This could, for instance, include for a café or sports hall. Some of the land is already subject to existing and proposed leases. These leases are subject to public consultation processes, so the wider community will have an ability to comment on any exclusions before they occur. There will not be any large-scale exclusions of the public. The Brown Road land will be privately owned, and access may be restricted.

Options

The Council has considered a range of options in relation to this proposal. The key options are summarised below. The Council also has the option not to proceed with changes to the Waitara endowment land.

The future of the leasehold land

There are three main options.

Option 1

The Council could continue to own and lease this land.

Legislation could change the use of the rental income, although funds would be limited by the rental incomes (so would be a low rate). This would mean the current discontent of some leaseholders would continue. This option would be inconsistent with the Heads of Agreement between the Council and Te Kotahitanga o Te Atiawa.

Option 2

The proposed legislation could enable leaseholders to freehold at a timing of the Council's choosing.

This would allow the Council to maximise its returns from the leasehold land by only selling the freehold title when conditions suited the Council. Under this option, the Council could offer discounted prices at certain times as the market conditions favour the Council selling the land. The Council could refuse applications to freehold if returns from leases are better than from other investments.

Option 3

The proposed legislation could provide leaseholders with a right to purchase the freehold title at the timing of the lessees' choosing.

This option provides a new, transferrable right for leaseholders and ensures they can purchase the freehold title at a time of their choosing. Under this option, in fairness to all parties, leaseholders would need to pay the unimproved land value in order to freehold.

The Council's preferred option is the third option – leaseholders have a right to purchase the freehold title if and when they wish. This provision of a right for leaseholders to purchase the freehold title has been something leaseholders have sought for many years. This will enable leaseholders to make a decision about when they want to freehold. This right will effectively form part of each lease, and will be passed on to new leaseholders if a lease is sold. The price being set is a market price based on the unimproved land value, and is consistent with the Council's legal obligations to act in a financially prudent manner. The Council believes this approach is fair to all interested parties. This is the approach used by both New Plymouth District Council and Taranaki Regional Council when selling the freehold estate in a number of other leasehold situations.

"Unimproved land value" means the value of the land as if no improvements (structures, excavations etc.) had been made to it. This is the unimproved value of what is leased. It is the market value of the land set in its neighbourhood as though it was undeveloped.

Funds

Funds will be from accumulated and ongoing rental income and sales proceeds.

Use of funds

The funds could be used for:

1. Specific purposes within Waitara. The current legislation sets out that funds can be used for certain activities that are no longer practicable. New legislation could set out a range of activities that the fund could be used for.
2. The benefit of the Waitara community. The new legislation could provide an open-ended and flexible approach to both capital and income that leaves funding decisions for current and future generations.
3. General funds. The new legislation could enable funds to be part of general Council revenues, and used to fund any project the Council saw fit (including outside of Waitara).

New Plymouth District Council proposes that its funds are used for the benefit of the Waitara community, with no rigid specification of what these purposes may be. However, the Council believes that some direction needs to be given and proposes two mechanisms for this. The first is a list of non-binding examples in the legislation, consistent with the provisions that govern lottery grant allocations. The second is the ability to set a strategy every three years. The Council also proposes to define in the Bill the area of Waitara as including the immediate surrounding rural area – this could allow for new facilities to be built just outside the existing urban area and can also accommodate future urban growth of Waitara.

It is proposed that Taranaki Regional Council funds should be used within Waitara but may be used outside of Waitara if, following a public process, the Regional Council determines that it cannot reasonably use its funds on any projects within its mandate within Waitara. The Regional Council will also have the ability to recover costs from its 2012-15 flood protection scheme, as this represents the Regional Council's most significant investment in Waitara in recent years.

There is no option around whether or not to split proceeds between New Plymouth District Council and Taranaki Regional Council for land currently governed by the Waitara Harbour Act 1940 as this reflects the pecuniary interest both councils currently have in the proceeds from this land. Funds will also be used to recover associated costs.

Timing of funds

The second aspect is the timing of funds. Funds will come from two different streams – rental income is predictable and relatively stable, while sales proceeds will likely start strong and then be variable depending on market conditions (e.g. mortgage rates, lease cycles). There are three main options on when to use these income streams:

1. Perpetual fund. The rental income and sales proceeds would be invested, with a small return each year. Over time, the fund would keep its value or grow if earnings were retained to cover inflation, although there may be some years where it shrinks due to market performance and interest rates.
2. Perpetual fund with some capital release provisions. This is similar to a perpetual fund, but there could be occasions where investments are sold to provide a bigger amount of funding in any one year so that a big project can be undertaken.
3. As-they-come-in. Under this option, the rents and sale proceeds would be used in the same year as they come in. This would allow for some significant projects early on as leaseholders purchase the freehold title, but would eventually extinguish all funds available.

The Council proposes that the funds New Plymouth District Council receives are held in a perpetual fund, with an annual release each year (option 1). This reflects the Council's preferred position to use the funds in Waitara – it turns the endowment fund into a long-term fund to improve the social, cultural, environmental and economic outcomes of Waitara. This means there is unlikely to be a large bucket of money available immediately, and instead it will take several years before substantial funding comes in. However, the Council also proposes that the fund can be pre-committed to enable significant projects to be funded over a number of years without spending the capital of the fund. Taranaki Regional Council will have more discretion for its shares, and its funds may accumulate and then be used on projects as needed.

There is already a fund made up of accumulated rentals, and both councils propose to deduct their costs to date, and the costs of the legislation process, from this.

Collaborative distribution entity

The Council and Te Atiawa entered into a Heads of Agreement that provides for a separate entity to be responsible for distributing the funds.

The Bill aims to provide as much independence to this entity as possible, while reflecting that the Council's tax-free status would not apply to a separate entity. There are a number of different options for how this entity could be structured:

- A statutory committee of the Council. The Council has a number of different committees with delegated decision-making authority. However, this option is inconsistent with the agreement between the Council and Te Kotahitanga.
- A statutory board. The law can create a specific type of body that is independent but supported by the Council's governance support services.
- An incorporated entity. The distributing entity could be a company or similar body. The entity would have its own staff, so this would be a high-cost model, taking funds away from Waitara.
- A charitable trust. A charity could be formed under the Charities Act 2005. Charities legislation would limit how the fund could be used within Waitara.

The Council's preferred option is to establish a statutory board with equal appointees from Council and Te Atiawa. Each appointing body can determine who it appoints, so (by way of example only) the Council could appoint councillors or Waitara residents.

Transfer of land to Te Kotahitanga o Te Atiawa Trust

The Heads of Agreement provides for the Council to transfer land to Te Kotahitanga o Te Atiawa Trust. This provides for the restoration of some land within Waitara to Te Atiawa, reflecting the historic confiscations of land by the Crown. There are four different approaches for each piece of land the Council owns in Waitara:

- Transfer ownership outright to Te Kotahitanga. This is the option the Council has selected for the Brown Road land.
- Transfer underlying title to Te Kotahitanga with the Council continuing to administer the property as reserve. This is the option the Council has selected for Battiscombe Terrace, East Beach and Clifton Park.
- Provide a right of first refusal in favour of Te Kotahitanga if the Council decides to sell it. This is the option selected for the Council-owned part of Ranfurly Park and the coastal part of the Waitara Golf Course.
- Do not transfer to Te Kotahitanga. This is the option selected by the Council for the leasehold land and all other Council-owned land in Waitara.

It should be noted that if the Bill is enacted the Council will be in a position to sell a number of other sites in Waitara to any interested party.

Do nothing

The Council could decide to continue with existing arrangements. There is no legal obligation on the Council to seek a new resolution to the Waitara endowment lands. This would mean:

- No right for lessees to freehold;
- Te Kotahitanga o Te Atiawa will not have land transferred to it; and
- Income will continue to accumulate with no practical purpose.

This is not the preferred option. While there could be future attempts to resolve the Waitara endowment land issues, there is no assurance that these would provide a better outcome for any party and they may not occur for some time.

Legislation

The Council's proposed Bill is set out over the next pages. Understanding legislation is not necessarily a difficult task, however legal advice should always be taken before undertaking any action or making any decision based on legislation (particularly as this Bill may change considerably between now and when/if Parliament passes it). There are some basic principles to understanding legislation:

- Check what terms are defined in the interpretation clause. Sometimes terms are defined in a way which limits or expands the ordinary day-to-day use of a word or phrase.
- Consider the purpose of the legislation. Legislation often includes a 'purpose' clause that states what it is trying to achieve, and this can affect how the rest of the legislation is read. If there are multiple interpretations, the one most consistent with the purpose will often be used by courts. In this case, there is also a Preamble, which gives context to the Bill, although it is not binding.
- Consider the legislation as a whole, not each clause on its own. Each clause should not be read by itself, and instead consider how the rest of the legislation may affect the operation of any one particular provision.
- Take the sensible interpretation. Many words can be given a variety of meanings, but there is likely to be a sensible, plain-English interpretation.

The draft of the Bill uses maps to provide information. The final Bill submitted to Parliament will use formal legal descriptions.

The precise terminology will likely vary as a result of further consultation with Government, and examination, advice and assistance from the Parliamentary Counsel Office.

The New Plymouth District Council (Waitara Lands) Bill

Preamble

1 Land issues have been contentious in the Waitara area since at least 1865, when land was taken from Te Atiawa.

2 Significant pieces of land are now vested in the New Plymouth District Council, having been vested in or endowed upon the former Waitara Harbour Board and various former local government entities.

3 There are restrictions on the ability of the Council to deal with the land or the proceeds of rents from or disposal of much of the land.

4 The Taranaki Regional Council has interests conferred by statute in some of those proceeds and is required to apply them in ways that are not now considered appropriate.

5 Te Atiawa (represented by the Te Kotahitanga o Te Atiawa Trust) as tangata whenua, has interests in the land referred to above, other land that is dealt with by this Act, and the Waitara community generally.

6 Leaseholders of much of the land dealt with by this Act have long desired the right to freehold their land and have engaged in litigation to attempt to obtain that right without success.

7 The Council, as the relevant territorial authority and as lessor, has interests, roles, rights, and responsibilities in respect of the land and the Waitara Community generally.

8 Previous attempts (including local Bills) to reconcile the various interests noted above have not been successful, but following extensive consultation with affected parties the Council has promoted this Act to:

- (a) enable the transfer of land to Te Atiawa;
- (b) allow lessees to freehold their properties; and
- (c) create an enduring fund for the benefit of Waitara and its community.

9 Legislation is required in order to give effect to the matters that have been consulted upon and related matters affecting land in the Waitara area.

The Parliament of New Zealand therefore enacts as follows:

1 Title

This Act is the New Plymouth District Council (Waitara Lands) Act 2016.

2 Commencement

This Act comes into force three months after the date on which it receives Royal assent.
