

Outward Bound for young volunteers

Published:23/09/2016

We're offering scholarships to young people for Outward Bound adventure courses to say thank you to the young volunteers protecting our nature and our natural places.

The Outward Bound scholarship offers a development opportunity for our future conservation leaders. It will help them to make life choices with confidence. Successful applicants will get involved in all the outdoors has to offer, including sailing, kayaking, rock climbing and tramping.

Who are we looking for?

We're looking for someone who has a passion and drive for conservation. Someone who has gone the extra mile to achieve greater conservation outcomes through the project they are working on. And someone who is a good ambassador for conservation through their volunteer work.

Applicants don't have to be volunteers for DOC. They can include rangatahi embracing kaitiakitanga with their iwi, hapū and whānau, or young volunteers supporting community conservation organisations.

What can you do?

Please share this great opportunity with:

- young conservation volunteers you know
- iwi, hapū and whānau we work in partnership with
- community conservation organisations

All the information on how to apply can be found at www.doc.govt.nz/outwardbound

The closing date for applications is 5pm Fri 28 October.
